

WHAT TO EXPECT

The Execution of Your Project

While the finished product is glamorous, the renovation process can be the opposite. After drawings and selections comes the hard work of bringing your vision to life. To ease this process for you and all parties involved, we prioritize regular, straightforward communication from initial onboarding to project completion.

01. Client Vision & Onboarding

Since home improvement projects are a significant investment, we're a firm believer in investing time into deep conversations and building honest relationships right from the start.

02. Design, Architecture, & Selections

We are happy to work with your architects and interior designers to execute on your vision. After we discuss a scope of work with you, we pull in the design team to determine feasibility. After pre-construction is complete, we collaborate closely with you to choose selections.

03. Subcontractor Scheduling

You never have to worry about subcontractor scheduling or availability. Our team is forward-thinking at every step of the way, and all coordination and communication with subcontractors is done on our end. Our good relationships with our local subcontractors allow us to get the best possible pricing, which translates to direct savings for you.

04. Project Management

Upon the start of the project, we integrate you into our project management software that keeps you updated daily. Additionally, we report weekly on all work completed and any issues or delays that arise. Responsiveness is one of our top priorities to carry out projects successfully—we are always open to feedback and our pricing structure makes it easy for you to scale up or down on your scope of work easily and on-budget as you see fit. At this point, we also collaborate closely with the design team to make sure that in-process changes can happen without a hitch.

05. Project Completion

At project completion, we inspect everything to ensure that craftsmanship levels have been maintained throughout the project. We then do a final job walkthrough with you and answer any questions. All our remodeling work comes with a two-year warranty—giving you the peace of mind of knowing that the work we complete for you will last for many years. We also offer referral incentives to all our clients and partners.
